Opening quotes from this book:

“I have been on a spiritual path for many years and still, reading Eros Christos book helped me uncover a new layer and confirmed the truths that I know and love. He is a great seer and can offer insights to all seekers where ever they may be on their journey. I hope many, many people can touch the wisdom he gives.” Dana Nellen

Leader's perspective:

I too have been on a long spiritual journey. I've read countless books and have become familiar with so many popular spiritual terms. But yet, I kept searching outside of myself for something that's always been present within. Aros's book along with his sessions has shown me that the journey begins with committed responsibility. And, I have made a commitment to be open to the truths that resonate so dearly and to shed the fears that have held me back for so long. Fears that have clouded my vision and have kept me separated from my divine self. It's not an overnight process, but it's a process that's in full swing. – Carol Ortiz
